On The Cover

Eastern Red Cedar (Juniperus virginiana) is Tennessee's state evergreen and a resilient native tree well adapted to the region's climate.

Highly drought-tolerant once established, it thrives in a wide range of soils and conditions. Its distinctive blue, berry-like cones provide an important food source for birds and other wildlife.

With dense, year-round foliage, Eastern Red Cedar is an excellent choice for windbreaks, natural screening, and privacy plantings.

Topic: Business and Potluck

Help SCAMGA kick off 2026 with a potluck and business meeting. Please note the date change due to extension office being closed on the third Monday of January.

Chilis and soups will be provided, so bring your favorite go-withs and let's ring in the new year in Master Gardener style.

President's Column

First and foremost, I want to thank Diane, Andrew, Monica, John, and Steve for their successful leadership in 2025. We achieved all of our objectives, despite losing Matt halfway through the year, and seem to be starting this year on a positive note with plans in place and a healthy financial footing.

Those of you who have become master gardeners since 2022 may not be aware that I served two terms as SCAMGA president in 2020 and 2021. Things started a bit rocky in my first term when our extension director/master gardener coordinator retired in February, and we weren't even in the search process for a replacement when Covid hit. Rather abruptly, all our goals for 2020 quickly went out the window and we were suddenly in survival mode, with a greenhouse full of beautiful plants and a canceled in-person plant sale. We immediately came together as a group and found a way to sell plants online and developed a system of "touchless" pick up for our customers that followed every one of the laundry list of restrictions UT threw at us that year. We began holding monthly meetings via Zoom, which wasn't ideal, but did keep us in contact with one another. We even held our annual ice cream social and Christmas party over Zoom that year. A determined group of master gardeners can always find a way to accomplish their objectives. Things did smooth out a bit by my second term, and we had a new extension director/master gardener coordinator in place by then. I truly hope we won't have any snags for my third term as president.

Hopefully we will have a new master gardener coordinator in place soon. In the meantime, we are moving ahead with plans for the annual plant sale, welcoming a new class of interns, and scheduling schools for the Tomato Seed Project. But what do we want our organization to be in 2026 and what can we accomplish together? The board and I will be discussing goals at our meeting before the meeting on January 12th, so if you have ideas for us to consider, please let Steve Greenwell, our Member-at-Large, or me know in advance. And please remember that our board meetings are open, so if you're curious about what goes on during board meetings, feel free to join us. We would love to have you in attendance.

Happy Gardening - Karen

Demo Garden News

Come Play in the Dirt With Us!

Do you like fresh air, getting your hands a little dirty, and laughing while you learn? Then the Demonstration Gardens might be your happy place!

Working in the demo gardens is a great way to pick up new gardening tips, share what you know, and spend time with friendly folks who love plants as much as you do. No green thumb required—we welcome beginners, seasoned gardeners, and everyone in between.

You'll help grow beautiful gardens that inspire the community, support pollinators, and show what really works in East Tennessee landscapes. Plus, it's good exercise, good company, and way more fun than weeding alone at home.

So grab a hat, bring your sense of humor, and come dig in with us—we promise smiles, learning, and maybe a little dirt under your nails!

We will have a workday on January 19th at 10:00 am in the Greenhouse. We will finish cleaning the trays and get the greenhouse ready to plant! We will have several workdays in February in the gardens. This will give us a chance to clean out the gardens and get ready to welcome the new growth and new plants that come with warmer weather. Please consider giving some of your volunteer hours to the Demo Garden.

pressure, just friendly faces and fun conversation. Bring your ideas and your questions,

We'd love to see you there and start the new year off together!

See you soon,
Diane

Winter Vegetable Lentil Soup

Serves
4-6 people

Ingredients

1 tablespoon olive oil
1 medium onion, diced
2 leeks, white and light green parts only, sliced and rinsed
well
3 cloves garlic, minced
3 carrots, peeled and sliced
2 celery stalks, sliced
1½ cups dried green or brown
lentils, rinsed
6 cups vegetable broth
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon dried thyme (or 1 tablespoon fresh thyme)
½ teaspoon ground cumin
(optional, for warmth)
Salt and black pepper, to taste
2 cups chopped kale or Swiss chard (stems removed)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
(optional, for brightness)

Instructions

Heat olive oil in a large pot over medium heat. Add the onion and leeks and sauté for 4–5 minutes, until softened.

Stir in garlic, carrots, and celery.
Cook for another 2–3 minutes until fragrant.

Add lentils, vegetable broth, bay leaf, thyme, and cumin (if using). Bring to a gentle boil.
Reduce heat to low, cover, and simmer for 30–35 minutes, or until lentils are tender.

Stir in kale or Swiss chard and cook for 5 more minutes, until greens are wilted.

Remove bay leaf. Season with salt and pepper, then finish with lemon juice if desired.

Serve warm with crusty bread or a simple green salad. This soup stores well and tastes even better the next day.
